Brooks Ranches have strived to raise the finest working cow horses for every person's needs, be it roping, reined cow horses, running or pleasure horses. Now they have added Plumb Dry to their existing fine battery of stallions.

This young horse has already proven his ability as a three-year-old by winning the coveted CRCHA World Championship Snaffle Bit Futurity.

Plumb Dry is now proving his fantastic talent in the cutting world by winning a spot in the semifinals at the two largest cutting futurities on the West Coast: The Pacific Coast Cutting Horse Association Futurity in Los Angeles and Harrah's Reno Cutting Futurity.

Plumb Dry will be standing to a limited number of outside mares in 1985 for a fee of $1,500 with a $300 booking fee.
